DUCK-BILLED WOMEN OF AFRICA

THESE extraordinary looking savages belong to the Ubangi tribe of the desert edge of the French Congo. They are forced to disfigure their faces because of the Arabs, who used to raid the village and carry off the young girls. They act in "Africa Speaks", the Columbia picture which is now at the Colonial Theatre.

DISC-LIPPED UBANGI WOMEN SHOWN IN 'AFRICA SPEAKS' A COLUMBIA PICTURE

MANY African tribes—particularly those of the French Congo—have long made it a practice to mutilate the faces of their women. The fact has been observed and deplored not only by travelers, but by French government officials. All efforts to discover the origin of the custom failed, however, until Paul L. Hoefler, who recently made an amazing trip in the interests of the Colorado-African Expedition, unearthed the secret.

JUNGLE SOUNDS EXTRAORDINARY FEATURE OF "AFRICA SPEAKS"— THRILLING FILM OF PRIMITIVE CONGO.

"AFRICA SPEAKS," which comes to the Colonial Theatre on Sunday and Monday, November 8-9, is a graphic motion picture and sound record of a trip taken by Paul L. Hoefler through the hitherto unexplored regions of Africa. Hoefler, who represented the Colorado-African Expedition, started inland from Mombasa on the Indian Ocean. His objective was Lagos on the Atlantic Ocean, a route which necessitated his penetrating the heart of equatorial Africa. As the expedition sped along the roads, herds of wild beasts, kongoni and tomies were encountered. Such gorgeous bits of natural beauty at the Epon Falls, source of the Victoria Nile, were photographed by Hoefler's cameramen, while at one point the entire expedition was loaded on an old steamer and floated down the ancient Egyptian river.

HIGH SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

FROM THE OWL

HONDO 7; CARRIZO SPRINGS 0. OWLS DEFEAT JOURDANTON.

Last Friday, October 23, the Hondo Owls journeyed to the city of Car-rizzo Springs where they met the Car-rizzo Wild Cats in a hard fought battle that ended 7 to 0 in favor of the Owls.

The Owls left Hondo about nine o'clock last Friday and drove to Crystal City where they ate dinner. It was reported that the dinner made some of the boys sick, including Harris Parsons, Clifford Stiegler and several others but it was not the dinner
so much as the traveling.

The change of weather, the dirt field on which the Owls played, and the sickness in the Owls' ranks all helped to mar the Owls forward march to the old chalk line more than once even though it did not mar their fighting spirit. The Carrizo team out-weighted the Owl's fifteen pounds to the man, therefore the Owls could not push the Wild Cats back in the soft dirt that was about six inches deep, but they passed those Wild Cats to death.

The first quarter began with the Owls kicking off to the Wild Cats.
The kick was short but the Blue and White battled the Wild Cats to a stand still and received the ball on a punt that was returned by A. Finger about sixty yards for the first and only touchdown of the game. The Owls kicked the extra point making the score 7 to 0 at the end of the first quarter. The two teams battled on for the rest of the half without scoring on each other, the Owls holding their lead of 7 points.

The second half began with the Wild Cats kicking off to the Owls and after several downs the ball changed hands. The Owls came within scoring distance of the Wild Cats line several times only to lose the ball on downs or on penalties which the Owls seemed to receive without fail. In the last minute of play the Wild Cats came within scoring distance of the Owls' line only to fail in a last attempt to tie the Owls and save the day. Thus the game ended 7 to 0 in favor of the Blue and White.

To add to the excitement of the game the Owls on arriving at the Frio River at Knippa found it impossible due to heavy rains at the head of the river and the poor tired Owls had to stay up all night after their hard battle with Carrizo.

MODEST BIRD.

Old maid: "Has the canary bird
had its bath?"
Servant: "Yes, he has mum. You can come in now."

Nature's first law

The planets that circle high up in the sky
Are kept in their orbits for some reason why;
And some power unseen, yet plainly we know,
Keeps them in their place and makes them all go.
And this same power has laid down a plan,
Called nature's laws, for the guidance of man.
Preservation is nature's first law, they say,
And you must save, if this law you obey.
The Hondo State Bank can teach you no more Than nature has taught many times before.

H. H. S. SENIOR INJURED IN AU- TO ACCIDENT HALLOWE'EN NIGHT.

An unusual occurrence happened
Saturday night, October 31, about eleven o'clock, when Hedwig Nester's Buick and Russell Speece's Chevrolet had a head to head automobile accident.

In Russell's car there were Russell
Speece and Frank Rucker, who received no injuries whatsoever, but

Margaret Dillon's two top front teeth were chipped, ankles strained, lips cut, and she received minor bruises over her body. In Hedwig Nester's car were Lucy Davis, who sustained a slight injury, Hedwig Nester, who was driving, and Gladys Fusselman, who was discovered hiding on the floor of the back seat.

The accident was inevitable; the automobiles could not possibly have avoided a collision. It is miraculous that the injuries were not worse.

REPORTER.

The Senior Class of the Yancey High School entertained the high school students and faculty with a Halloween party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Duncan, Saturday night.

Various contests and games were enjoyed until about 10:30, when refreshments consisting of peanuts, popcorn, cookies and punch were served to about 40 guests.

In order to keep the spooks from catching their young guests, the Seniors put them on a truck and carried them safely home.

REPORTER.

The Yancey High School Tigers opened their 1931-32 basketball season, October 31, by defeating the Trio quintet 35 to 2. The defense of the Yancey Tigers was so strong that the opposing team was unable to make a single field or crisp shot. Trio, however, took advantage of two of the foul shots given them and scored two points. The Tigers second string played the second quarter, and the third string played four minutes of the third quarter. Both the second and third strings made very good showings.

Berry of Yancey was the outstanding offensive player and Ward and Fasel, also of Yancey, were the outstanding defensive players in the game. Hartman, Yancey's star standing guard, was out with a sore knee.

REPORTER.

The Junior Class of 1931 has been organized. The following officers were elected: President, Ralph Ward; vice president, Leota Pettis; secretary-treasurer, Coy Berry; reporter, Lucille McCaughan; sponsor, Miss Shultz. Class color, purple and gold; Class flower, pansy; Class motto, Be Square (B2).

COLONIAL COVERINGS.

"The Lone Rider," a breath-taking all-talkie "western" with the hard-riding Buck Jones in the main role is scheduled to play at the Colonial Theatre Saturday. The film is a depiction of the colorful days of '49. Supporting roles in this production are played by Vera Reynolds, Harry Woods and George Pearce.

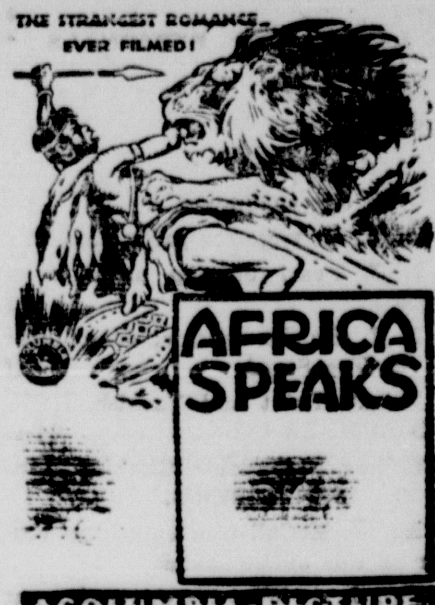

Real Africa is a hundred times more thrilling, colorful and glamorous than it has ever been depicted on the stage and screen. This fact is demonstrated in "Africa Speaks", which opens at the Colonial Theatre Sunday and Monday. It is a motion picture and sound record of a trip taken across the dark continent by Paul L. Hoefler, representing the Colorado-African Expedition, and offers a riotous blending of gorgeous scenery, picturesque savages, tribal dances and thrilling escapades with wild beasts. Its all there—fact that is stranger than fiction and many times more entertaining. See the views that thrill elsewhere in this paper and read the splendid offer.

Greta Garbo soars to fresh heights of dramatic achievement in "Susan Lennox, Her Fall and Rise," which opens at the Colonial Theatre Thursday. In the picturization of the famous novel, Garbo negotiates a role demanding frequent transitions, endowing it with an emotional intensity that makes the characterization of the Swedish farm girl who rises to fame and wealth a real one. Her character is one that lives. Clark Gable plays opposite Garbo in the new film and offers a magnificent performance. The supporting cast is excellent, the featured roles including Jean Hersholt, John Miljan, Alan Hale, Hale Hamilton, Hilda Vaughn and others.

A MISER buried his money in the earth at the foot of a tree. Every day he went to feast his eyes upon the sight of his treasure. A thief who had watched him for some time came one night and carried off the miser's gold. The next day, the miser finding his treasure gone, tore his clothes and filled the air with lamentations. A neighbor heard him and when he learned the cause said, "Don't grieve so, but go and get a stone; place it in a hole and fancy it is your gold. It will be of quite as much USE to you as your money was."

YOUR savings are probably not buried in a hole at the foot of a tree. But maybe they're BURIED just the same. LET US FORGET OUR HEROES.

All too soon, although it has been but a few years ago since the World War, we forget our duty towards those who are hungry and begging with stretched hands to you for something, just a bite to eat, perhaps, or something to wear as the cold and merciless winter is coming on and many will shiver until his suffering body with tattered clothes like the body that fades before the morning sun will be no more when spring and business return and will have relinquished his soul to his God, leaving behind his cruel and relentless world to the needy and the wealthy.

Some of our heroes have fallen on the field of battle. Others are still lingering with us with their bodies mangled and still others are suffering from the effects of gaseous attacks. Then there are those who are absolutely penniless, but who are not given help that is due them in the way of work or otherwise. Instead, the answer to his entreaties will usually be: "Go, ye dog, for the war is over and won and I do not need you any more. The bank is full with my money, the cupboard is full for me and a fine mansion awaits me when I arrive home from my office."

The essence of it all is this: Are we worthy of hiring him or her who are needy and harboring them during this depression in preference to the needy veteran or any one else who is worthy for that matter? And do we give according to our means?

Lest we forget again, thanks to some big hearted people such as Mrs. J. M. Turner and her perseverance has at last won her battle to beautify the Alamo grounds and dedicate it to posterity. And so on down the line, from the Revolutionary days to Lincoln's Revolution and the World War, we have a succeeding line of glorious heroes that we must be thankful for and must never forget.

THE SOLDIER'S SONG.

It was in nineteen eighteen in France
May my memory forever enhance
That I saw the different things we did
I shared the hikes and dangerous toils
I saw the shell holes wide and deep
Where now the chirping crickets creep
And often we lay side by side
Tranquilly slept while guns did flash
While aeroplanes hummed and shells did crash
All o'er the country wide.

Our beds were the rushes green,
Our roof was the open sky,
Our pillow was the knapsack hard,
Too glad to rest and lie.

Then my thoughts to God had turned,
Save us till the morrow's light,
O God, surely a rest we've earned
For tomorrow again we fight.

And when my eyes were closed
And I had thought of my mother dear
The savage shells whistled grimly on—
Struck terror, such death we'd fear.

For on the morrow a mother's son
And just before the battle was won
Was seriously wounded and must die
Ere the morrow's light is nigh.

"Dear buddy," to me he said,
"I've done my duty well,
I am going to leave you, pal
But this message you must tell.

Tell the world and my mother too
And all the rest I ever knew
I have fought and died for all,
I heeded my country's call."

Just then he closed his eyes,
His lips had sealed ere now,
He was dead; and there he lies
In the soil on France's field.

No more guard must he stand,
No more reveille or retreat,
But angels guard his grave
Till some day we again will meet.

UPPER QUIHI NOTES.

A birthday surprise was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Turner of Dunlay in honor of their son, Charles Dahl, on the evening of Oct. 28th. The room had Halloween decorations and all looked dark and spooky; as the guests entered a bell was rung; oh, how spooky! The little man was five years old. The evening was spent in conversation, singing, playing games, fortune telling and dancing. Music was furnished by Mr. John Weimers and daughter, Miss Florence. STRANGER MEETS TRAGIC END.

A stranger who had been hunting doves on the Bohmfalk farm, five miles south of town, was found about 5:30 yesterday afternoon shot in the body.
Officers and physicians were hastily summoned, but the unfortunate man died before medical aid could reach him.

From papers found on his body he is thought to be John Laprelle of Corpus Christi. He is 47 years of age, six feet tall and weighs about 180 pounds.

From the surroundings, it appears that he was shot accidentally while trying to cross a fence.

Renewals and new subscribers to this paper for the week are as follows: D. W. Short, Hondo; L. P. Mann, Hondo; L. A. Wiemers, Hondo; F. R. Grube, Hondo; T. McCall, Hondo; Chas. Oefinger, Dunlay; Adolph Nietenhoefer, Hondo; L. M. Tondre, Castroville; Charles Wilson, Arp, Texas.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED.

Among the delightful pre-nuptial parties complimenting Miss Hedwig Leinweber, a popular bride-elect of November, was the intimately charming bridge given by Miss Irene Schweers Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Alfred Schweers.

The friends of Miss Leinweber gathered early at the Schweers home for the purpose of surprising the bride-to-be with a mock wedding. The hostess met the honoree and escorted her to the side entrance where she was met by the groom, Miss Mary Ruth Cameron, and was presented a huge bridal bouquet of purple asters and fern, tied with silver ribbon. Miss Frances Finger played a wedding march for the bridal pair to march slowly to their place beneath the archway of the living room where a large white wedding bell was hung. The dignified preacher in the person of Miss Libby Shoor met the couple there and reading from a dictionary pronounced the words that made them man and wife. During the ceremony, as everything was done on a large scale, an immense steel wedding ring was placed on the bride's finger by the groom. The words read by the preacher are as follows:

MARRIAGE CEREMONY FOR HEDWIG AND NUEL.

We're gathered together tonight To join this happy couple right In bonds of wedlock safe and sound. Please hear these questions I pronounced.

Does anyone know reasons why These two should not together tie? You'll have to speak loud tonight Or always keep your mouth shut tight.

Now, Nuel, will you take this girl And treat her as a precious pearl Make her cook all your meals just right And never never have a fight? Will you promise to keep her fed On beans and good corn bread? And roll for her when she is ill Your very best big round pill? Your answer to this is, I will.

Now, Hedwig, do you take this man To live with always, if you can, To swallow pills and mend his clothes Keep his socks darned at heel and toes, Cook meals on time with no burnt bread No crying do to make eyes red, Be patient and his will obey And keep on smiling night and day, Be good and hear him grunt when ill Can you do this and love him still? Your answer to this, I will.

With this ring I wed thee, Now join left hands that all may see Husband and wife you really be. Just bug your husband round the collar Kiss your wife and give me a dollar.

Following the ceremony, Miss Thelma Wilson sang "Oh, I wish I were Single Again". After the song, "What a Wonderful Wedding it Will Be," several games of bridge were played.

Small hand painted blue bonnet pictures were presented to the honoree and to Miss Elta Leinweber, who held high score. Each table was centered with a small pottery vase of handpainted bluebonnet scenes, filled with rosebuds and fern, the same vase being carried out by a pottery bowl of roses on the piano.

The guests cut for the table prizes. Misses Mary Ruth Cameron, Libby Shoor and Anne Leah Brucks winning. All the prizes were presented to the honoree.

A delicious ice course was served to the following: the honoree, Misses Ellean and Anna Leah Brucks, Elta Leinweber, Anne Davis, Frances Finger, Libby and Naomi Shoor, Jonelle Rothe, Mary Ruth Cameron, Thelma Wilson, Irene Schweers and Mrs. Alfred Schweers.

Jungle fads, odd peoples and fierce wild beasts peer at you from the screen as they greet you at the front entrance of the theatre.

MISS LEINWEBER HONORED.

Hospitalities for Miss Hedwig Leinweber, whose marriage to Nuel Windrow takes place on November 9, included that of Thursday night, October 29, which Miss Anna Leah Brucks and Libby Shoor gave at the Brucks home, the guests being intimate friends of the honoree. Signs and symbols of the Hallowe'en season were found in the table appointments and the low bowls of low cosmas placed attractively about the home.

The refreshment course featured the Hallowe'en motif with orange cups of fruit salad, pimiento sandwiches cut as jack-o-lanterns, macaroons and orange punch, and black and yellow candies.

The bridge games were interrupted by the entrance of a ghastly white figure, bearing a huge low jack-o-lantern filled with prizes. Miss Leinweber received the ghost's gift and opened it to find a shower of linen, etc. of her friends.

At the conclusion of the bridge high score prize, a pretty black vase was won by the honoree herself.

The guests were Misses Irene Schweers, Mary Ruth Cameron, Elta Leinweber, Anne Davis, Naomi Shoor, Della Mae Adamcik, Sue Healy, Lillian Brucks, Mrs. A. H. Bendele, Rudy Rath, Mrs. L. J. Brucks, the honoree, Miss Hedwig Leinweber, and the hostesses, Misses Anna Leah Brucks and Libby Shoor.

TEXAS AND TEXANS.

By
Will H. Mayes
"All Texans for All Texas"

Texas' White Population.

The white population of Texas increased 22.8 per cent in the ten-year period from 1920 to 1930, the negro population 15.3 per cent. The largest percentage of increase was in the Mexican population—71.6 per cent—this attributable largely to the extraordinary demand for common labor in the Rio Grande Valley. Within the last year many thousands of Mexican laborers have returned to Mexico attracted home by improved conditions in that country. The failure of the negro population to maintain an equal ratio of increase with the white was due to the removal of large numbers of negroes to the factory centers of the North and East, where wages were better than on Texas farms. Unless farming conditions improve many more negro and Mexican tenants and laborers will leave Texas in the next ten years and the average population increase of 25 per cent will not be maintained.

Banks To Aid Farming.

The readiness with which Texas banks are agreeing to assist in the movement to withdraw 7,000,000 bales of cotton from the market is most commendable. This is especially true of the smaller country banks which have had their credit somewhat strained by general financial conditions. It now looks like Texas will at least do its part with bank co-operation, to restore cotton to its place as a profitable farm crop. Farmers, however, to get bank support, will have to live up to the provisions of the Texas cotton acreage restriction laws, and the banks should make it clear that credit will not be extended to them unless they agree to do this. Most of the banks will add a requirement that farmers agree to plant at least enough garden crops to supply their families throughout the year.

Doing Big Things.

Despite all the unwarranted croakings, big projects are under way and big things are being accomplished in Texas on a scale never before undertaken. Notice the vast road building almost everywhere, the giant utility and irrigation projects, the Federal canalization and building plans, the steadily increasing number of factories. Big undertakings move slowly, but fine progress is to be seen by all who observe.

Large Land Sale.

The sale of 12,500 acres in the Maverick county irrigation district, now under development, for a consideration involving millions of dollars is one of a number of recent transactions showing confidence in Texas. This land is to be resold in tracts of about 1,000 acres, and these in turn subdivided into small tracts. The Maverick county irrigation system will cost $7,000,000 when completed and will comprise about 67,000 acres of land, all as rich as is to be found in the world.

Trinity Navigation.

Don't decide, just because the papers are not full of it every day, that the Trinity river navigation movement is not going forward with the promoters confident of success. It is not contemplated, of course, that great ocean liners are to go up the Trinity, but the small vessels will navigate the stream with loads of heavy, slow-moving freight and it is estimated that some $16,000,000 will be saved Texans annually in freight charges.

Wichita Falls Irrigation Plans.

Wichita Falls may have been too prosperous in years past for its own good. The major part of an irrigation project covering some 200,000 acres has been completed for eight years, but land prices have been high with indifference shown about settling the area with small farmers and trucksters. Things are changing. An organization has been created recently to bring about actual development of this large acreage this fall and winter. Prices of lands are to be reduced and thousands of acres are to be cut into tracts of 30 to 80 acres and offered for sale on liberal terms. The whole city is behind the movement, it is said.

Avoiding Gas Taxes.

Petroleum marketers of Texas allege that Texas is deprived of from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 every year by evaders of gasoline taxes and have volunteered to assist in running them down. This vast sum would greatly increase the road building and add materially to the school fund.

Who Owns the Roads?

Now a court has issued an injunction to prevent peace officers from enforcing the truck regulations, the injunction has been dissolved by another court and contempt proceedings and other troubles have arisen. Truck operators appear to think that the roads have been built and are being maintained for their exclusive use. Those who travel the highways in smaller cars complain that trucks monopolize the roads and make it dangerous for all travel, showing little or no regard for the rights of others. New roads are being worn out quickly by the heavy truck traffic. Possibly the best remedy would be some kind of a toll for vehicles using highways for commercial purposes.

Better Cotton Needed.

The manager of the New Braunfels cotton mills complains that he has to go elsewhere to buy the kind of cotton required by the mills. He states that he cannot buy in the territory near the mills any cotton of a one and one-sixteenth inch staple and that less than 200 bales of the hard, fine staple used is supplied by the entire state. To produce this cotton, proper seed, cultivation and ginning are required. One of the mysteries about farming is why inferior cotton is produced when the demand is for better grades.

Cantaloupe Crop.

Pecos cantaloupes have gained a national reputation. About 125 cars—nearly 40,000 crates have been shipped this season. The demand for the melons will probably result in doubling the crop another season, and it is predicted that within a few years the melon trade will be worth more to Pecos than all the other industries combined.

Prosperity Pointers.

A Californian has bought a four-year-old citrus orchard of ten acres near Mission for a consideration of $27,500, practically all cash.

Twenty-five acres planted to artichokes in the Pecos Valley will produce 10 tons to the acre. Artichokes will do well in most parts of Texas.

Banner banana crops are being produced in the Lower Rio Grande Valley this season.

A Chicago concern has started a leather goods factory at Fresno, Cameron county, that will employ about 100 hands.

Weimar tomato growers have employed a special instructor to teach them how to grow and handle tomatoes profitably.

About 50 men will be employed in the construction of two large bridges to be erected near Uvalde.

The State of Texas has let contracts totaling $867,000 on additional buildings at various state institutions.

Road contracts recently let by the State Highway Commission run from 25 to 40 per cent under estimates based on previous costs.

Corsicana has completed improvements giving the city one of the most modern water plants in Texas.

At Point Isabel sufficient grounds have been acquired to meet the Government requirements for harbor terminal facilities and turning basin of sufficient capacity to last some 50 years.

Bids will be asked December 20 on a $200,000 courthouse at Longview.

Hale Center parties will soon begin erection of a fifty-barrel flour mill with necessary warehouses and elevators.

Beaumont will erect a $100,000 port cotton warehouse following a municipal bond issue for that purpose.

Citizens of Stockdale are planning the organization of a new bank.

A solid train load of flour—1,835 tons—has been shipped by a Sherman flour mill to Pennsylvania, New York and New England bakeries.

EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEECH.

From The Owl.

Extemporaneous speech is one of the League contests that will not wait. Preparation for it should be started with the first assignment of topics. Extensive reading is required, notebooks and scrapbooks must be kept, and much practice in delivery is necessary. The teacher will do well to keep in mind the valuable ends to be gained by training pupils for this contest, and the most economic methods for making the needed preparation.

This contest is organized and conducted for the purpose of intelligently directing the study of current problems. It is meant to furnish a stimulus for students to train themselves in the acquisition of facts, theories and opinions concerning current affairs and in the organization and presentation of this information in an effective way. The contest itself, judged competently, will improve standards in extemporaneous speech and furnish both teachers and pupils with a definite aim or ideal toward which to work in the study and practice of this art. It is meant also to provide the pupil with such solid foundation of acquired information and to develop in him such skill in presentation that in his public appearances he will be able to instruct and entertain the audience, thereby serving an important social function.

It should be noted that this is a specific kind of public speaking, differing from debate, declamation, oratory, dramatic reading, etc., having close affiliation with the work in English composition, current events study, and oral English. It should be, therefore, definitely correlated with these standard subjects, and indeed, must be, to secure the best results.

Little equipment is necessary. The school or other agency should provide the two magazines to which citations are made and a good daily paper, and the pupil should provide himself with a notebook and scrapbook. The notebooks and scrapbooks should be kept up-to-date and should be properly indexed. This in itself is a valuable by-product of the training for this contest.

Practice in organization of the material should be constantly given. Outlines of the topics should be made and presented in class for criticism. Oral delivery before the class and before larger groups of students during auditorium periods should be made a regular feature of the preparation. When sufficient skill has been acquired, the teacher should arrange, if practicable, to have the most talented of the pupils appear before social or service clubs, and, by exchange arrangements, before student groups in other schools. The winner of last year's State contest made during the year more than forty public addresses outside the school on one or another of the assigned topics. This is a skill, and no skill can be learned without frequent practice.

The first assignment of extemporaneous speech topics appears in another column of this issue.

EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEECH.

From The Owl.

Extemporaneous speech topics, first assignment for this year, are published in the list which follows. A few new references are inserted from time to time. Topics upon which the Extension Loan Library has material in package form are starred. Additional assignments will be made in each issue of the League.

A CHARACTER SKETCH IN ENGLISH IV.

From The Owl.

Uncle Jerimaih

Uncle Jerimaih Carrydale rested his light weight upon a lighter cane. He was not a tall man, but he had the power of dominating. His dark, haunting eyes were just above two hollow cheeks. His long thin nose almost struck his chin. The only thing that separated them was a straight line of lips that grew straighter with his years. He was dressed like most men dressed, yet he looked different. Some kind of a freak trinket hung on his watch fob. Uncle Jerimaih did not look at a single being until he got to his office where he summoned the entire office force. The biting words which issued between his colorless lips sent panic into the heart of every one present. The situation caused by his harsh cruel words was only relieved by the timely ringing of the telephone in the next room.

FIRE DESTROYS OLD COTTON GIN BUILDING.

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the building, known as the Masterson Gin in the Western part of town at midnight, Wednesday, October 28th.

The building was the property of Joseph Courand of San Antonio. Courand had the gin machinery moved from the building some time past.

Some 700 bales of corn shucks belonging to Mr. Frank Keller and other tools and other items the property of Mr. F. W. Erek also went up in smoke.

The fire when first noticed had made such headway that nothing could be done to save building or contents. A light breeze from an easterly direction kept other nearby property from catching fire.

The estimated value of the building and contents is around $1500.00. It was unable to learn whether insurance was carried on the property as we go to press.

BEAT UVALDE.

From The Owl.

I believe that it is the desire of every loyal student for our boys to "beat the socks off Uvalde" next Friday afternoon. There has been quite a bit of antagonism between Uvalde and Hondo for several years, so naturally we would like to see our boys win.

Some of the Uvalde boys were razzing the Owls during the Asherton-Hondo game, about their fighting spirit but they have not seen our boys fight yet. The best way for the student body to help the boys win is for all of them to go to Uvalde and back the team.

The Pep Squad has been helping and "yelling their lungs out" but there's always room for more so come on everybody and help us back the boys who fight with all their might to win for us.

The next game after the Uvalde game will be at Hondo with Pearsall but let's help to win the Uvalde game and then we will talk about Pearsall. So come on everybody let's BEAT Uvalde!!

JUST WHAT YOU DESERVE, PERCY!

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH

A Human Magnet

Someone noticed a magnet over a chemist's table. The magnet was loaded with a collection of various tools and weights. The party asked the chemist, "What is the magnet doing?"

"I am loading it up," the chemist answered. "It has been lying on the table doing nothing and losing its power, so now I am giving it something to do, a little more every morning, and it's gaining, it's stronger every day," and he added a small file to the weights on the magnet.

"That is the way," he continued, "God makes magnets out of men. If they loaf around and do nothing, they can't do anything; they lose their force. But give them something to do, and they'll soon be good for more than you ever dreamed they could do. Magnetic power, like muscles, is developed by something to do; yes, and brains and souls of men."

The church provides this opportunity for men in a higher sense than any other institution on earth. Those who are active members in the church must be working all the time for the Kingdom of God. The present times in which we live are in even a greater measure a test of the Christian power in men. Even more work must be required of Christians today than ever before. And like a magnet, by doing more good, we become able to do ever more and more good. Let the Church of Christ fit you to become such a living magnet in this world.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church will have German Service next Sunday at 10:30 A.M. and night service in the English language beginning at 7:30. The Sunday School begins at 9:15 A.M.

On Friday night of this week at 7:30 the Sunday school teachers will meet at the church. Another lecture in the first year's teacher training course will be given by the pastor. The topic is "How to Read and Study the Bible." The Christmas program will also be brought under way.

RATH-WILSON.

Mr. and Mrs. George Isaac Wilson announce the marriage of their daughter, Sarah Elizabeth, to Mr. Rudolph Christian Rath of Hondo and Austin, the wedding having taken place at 5:00 P. M., October 11, 1931, at the Laurel Heights Methodist Church of San Antonio, Rev. H. Bascom Watts officiating.

The young couple were quietly married in the presence of only two attendants, Miss Thelma Wilson, sister of the bride, and Mr. August Finger. Immediately after the ceremony they returned to their homes in Hondo, and the groom left later in the evening for Austin, where he is a junior engineering student of the University.

On November 1st Mr. Rath came for his bride and the wedding was announced to the surprised parents and friends of the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Rath left Sunday evening to make their home in Austin, while the groom continues his studies.

The bride is the third eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Wilson of Hondo, and a graduate of Hondo High School where the romance which culminated in their marriage was begun. Mrs. Rath attended Baylor University at Waco, Texas, where she was a member of the Junior class.

The groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Rath also of this place and a graduate of Hondo High School. Mr. Rath attended Wesleyan College at Greenville and has been a student of Texas University for two years.

The Publishers.

The play "Ladies and Hussars" given by the Castroville Dramatic Club was a great success. A Comedy in 3 acts with flashing uniforms and elaborate costumes.

The play opens at the Major's country place where he and his pals, the Captain, Chaplain and Lieutenant, are at their ease contemplating a hunting trip, when the serenity is disrupted by the arrival of his three sisters with their adopted niece, and baggage, also canaries, cats, etc.

The object of the sisters' visit is to marry their adopted niece to the Major, who is a confirmed bachelor and credited to be quite wealthy.

Around this develops the humor and pathos of the play.

Everyone took their part to perfection as evidenced by the interest the audience showed in the applause which accompanied the dropping of the curtain, terminating each act. Between the acts Mrs. Alfred Rihn and Miss Clara Schott sang solos and duets, accompanied by the Castroville orchestra, which added greatly to the play.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schott visited in Devine Thursday.
